She hoped she had managed to get over to Council just how much she had enjoyed her year and how thrilled she had been to take part in so many prestigious events. Her annual gala dinner was also a huge success at Brynteg Lower school last Friday. She extended her thanks to everyone who had supported that.

Tomorrow she was very pleased to be attending the Stroke Association's 21st Anniversary tomorrow followed by Plant's 5th Anniversary Celebration at Coedwig y Plant, Blaengarw. After that there was the official opening of the new library in Pontycymer which was such a positive investment for the Garw valley .

Friday is the Mayor's Charity Grand Raffle Draw followed by a presentation of BEM medals to two individuals of the Bridgend area with the Lord Lieutenant.

On Sunday she would be attending the Bridgend Youth Music concert at the Grand Pavilion followed by a concert at the Tabernacl Chapel, Bridgend.

181 REPORT OF THE LEADER

Councillor M E J Nott thanked Members of Council for once again re-appointing him as Leader.

Leading Bridgend County Borough Council was an enormous responsibility and a great privilege he stated. It was a role that he was very proud to carry out because, like other Members, he was passionate about ensuring that Bridgend County Borough remains a great place in which to live and work. This is why Members present had chosen to be Councillors to serve their communities.

As a Council Members, with the support of Officers, had committed to work together to improve lives in Bridgend County Borough. The Leader reminded Members, that working together can mean many things: ie collaborations with local authority partners such as other councils, health, the police, the private and the third sectors to pool expertise, in order to become more efficient and to make communities stronger.

It also meant working with AMs Carwyn Jones and Janice Gregory and MPs Madeleine Moon and Huw Irranca Davies, to ensure Bridgend County Borough has a strong presence in Cardiff Bay and Westminster.

It meant working together as Councillors too, to provide sound scrutiny and be an effective voice for those we serve.

And, of course, the Leader added that it meant working with citizens to encourage them to feel engaged and empowered to make a difference to their own lives.

The Leader was pleased to lead a Council that celebrated this approach to partnership and one which continued to look for new opportunities to collaborate to improve value for money, service quality or access.

He was supported by an effective and proven Cabinet who had grown in strength through this and the previous administration. He had no doubt that they were still the right people to guide the Authority through the tough times ahead. To that end, he wished to say a few words about each member of his administration and the important agenda they will continue to manage.

As Deputy Leader, Councillor David Sage would continue to deliver on the important portfolios he had been entrusted to deliver including regeneration, public protection and equalities. Under his sensible stewardship excellent progress had been made in developing town centres and making communities safer, fairer, more vibrant places in which to live, visit and work. The millions of pounds the Authority had secured and invested in regeneration, tourism opportunities and business were worthy of celebration and provided a sound footing for the future. The Leader also personally thanked the Deputy Leader for his wise counsel and the support he had showed him as his Deputy. This had been the most challenging of years for him, and his courage and determination he had shown to continue in this role was admirable.

The Leader advised that last year he had appointed Councillor Mike Gregory as the new Cabinet Member for Resources. Since then he had received a baptism of fire, due to the weak economy and the severe spending constraints placed upon public services which had made his role a particularly testing one. The financial environment would become increasingly challenging in the next four years, and the Leader was grateful that Councillor Gregory was using his experience and expertise, and working so closely with officers to make best use of the resources available while still making improvements to the lives of the BCB citizens.

The Leader confirmed that Councillor Huw David had brought incredible energy and passion to the role of Cabinet Member for Children and Young People over the last 12 months. He was hugely ambitious for younger citizens within the County Borough, and understood that a good education provided them with the springboard for their future prosperity and wellbeing, which is why he was a driving force behind plans to improve local educational results and job opportunities. Raising aspirations will be critical to this, and the partnership he spoke of earlier would extend to working with schools, other education providers and of course parents and carers. The whole Cabinet were delighted that this would be pursued against the backdrop of the School Modernisation Programme which would deliver the world-class Valleys Gateway comprehensive Y Dderwen in September.

Councillor Lyn Morgans role as Cabinet Member for Wellbeing covered two of the most important improvement priorities for the years ahead, which were around helping vulnerable people to stay independent and tackling health issues and encouraging healthy lifestyles. Like all areas of Wales, the Council faced significant wellbeing challenges in Bridgend County. Individual ill-health did not just impact on just that one person – it could also affect families, communities and the economy, and cause a burden on partners such as health and the police. The Authority needed more people to take a greater responsibility for their own wellbeing and lifestyles, but it also knew that it needed strong support mechanisms in place for those who required this. The Cabinet Member – Wellbeing’s understanding of this complex portfolio had been instrumental in developing the exciting relationship with Halo which is making leisure services more accessible. And his experience of older people and those with care needs made him ideally placed to tackle the issues of a changing and older population. There were many challenges in this area but there was much to celebrate, such as the growth of enabling services through partnership arrangements with ABMU Health Board. The Leader was delighted that the Cabinet Member – Wellbeing was in the forefront of this.

Finally explained the Leader, Councillor Phil White would remain as the Cabinet Member for Communities and share his considerable experience and enthusiasm for improving those frontline services which are such a key part of his portfolio. The Leader felt that if Members asked their constituents what they thought their council tax paid for, they usually said bins and roads. And while Members were aware that the Council delivered many diverse and complex services over and above that, both within the Communities Directorate and throughout the Council, the ‘bins and roads’ element of the Cabinet Member - Communities role remained critically important. So, in more detailed terms, the Council would aim to collect less rubbish and more recycling, so that it could remain one of the cleanest and greenest boroughs in Wales. The Authority would also be looking to deliver the second year of its three year highway improvement programme, while keeping the borough moving in other ways such as through the new Civil Parking Enforcement Scheme or its rights of way network. The leader was sure that the Cabinet Member - Communities would strive to play his part in creating a county borough which people can take pride in and which others want to visit or invest in.

The Leader thanked all the Cabinet Members for the support and loyalty they had showed, but equally important was the support given by other Members, as the support they gave the Executive and the Council as a whole, through constructive comments, meant the Authority was stronger as a result of this.

The Leader concluded by thanking the outgoing Mayor Marlene Thomas for her outstanding commitment to this important office over the last year. He would expand significantly on this and her consort at next week’s Inauguration for the new Mayor. However, he did not want to let the occasion pass without telling the outgoing Mayor just how much Council had appreciated her during the last 12 months, due to the special qualities she had brought to the role.

The Leader extended his sincere appreciation to the new Chief Executive and all of his staff for their hard work over the last year. He had enjoyed getting to know him and also working alongside him to develop the vision and priorities which would shape the future of Bridgend County Borough over the next four years. The challenge was now to consolidate those plans and focus our efforts on developing the health and wealth of the borough and bring about real improvements. There was a fantastic, committed and experienced workforce at Bridgend County Borough Council. Council workers rarely get the credit they deserve, but he wished to stress that communities would not function without their invaluable support. These comments were not just meant for frontline staff, but also the support services behind them. On behalf of Members, he sent a personal note of real appreciation to all employees who worked for the Authority.

Regardless of political allegiances, Members and Officers of BCBC were united in wishing the Authority to be a place where is older and most vulnerable residents felt safe but where independence could thrive, a place where quality leisure services are accessible and affordable, a place in which to grow a stronger and more prosperous economy, a safer, fairer place where children and young people could realise their aspirations. A Bridgend County Borough to be proud of. He looked forward to working with Members and Officers for another year to achieve this.
