WESTERN BAY YOUTH JUSTICE & EARLY INTERVENTION SERVICE

ANNUAL PLAN

INTRODUCTION

Youth Offending Services/Teams (YOS/Ts) are statutory multi-agency partnerships who have a legal duty to co-operate in order to secure youth justice services appropriate to their area funded from a variety of sources including UK Government, Welsh Government and the statutory partners. (ie the local authority, Police, the National Probation Service and Health).

Bridgend, Neath Port Talbot and Swansea Youth Offending Teams have been a merged service since 29 May 2014 when the first Western Bay Youth Justice and Early Intervention Service (WBYJEIS) Management Board was held and all local management boards ceased. The management board is chaired by the Neath Port Talbot Director of Social Services, Health and Housing and has a membership in line with the requirements of the Crime and Disorder Act including Cabinet Members from all three local authorities and the Police and Crime Commissioner.

The amalgamation came at a time of financial challenge. The service has managed to continue to deliver services sustaining performance whilst making savings of c. £1m when comparing the budget at the start of the amalgamation process with that of the budget now. The service has been flexible and able to work differently with less staff to achieve these savings. No compulsory redundancies have been made to date.

Efforts have been concentrated on bringing consistent good practice across the region from early intervention and prevention work through to resettlement and reintegration. This has not been without difficulty, it has taken staff time to move from one established way of working to another especially during a time of local and national uncertainty. However, Youth Justice Board key performance indicators (KPIs) continue to show a reduction in first-time entrants, reduction in the use of custody and while reoffending percentage rates remain high, the actual number of young people reoffending continues to fall.

In order to drive forward the quality of work as well as the volume of work, the service has developed a management sub group the 'Performance and Audit Group'. This group ensures that any actions plans are monitored, lessons from inspections are transferred into our own work plan, relevant audits are completed and overall performance is internally monitored. This group has been a positive development and is continuing to develop its own programme of work. In accordance with last year's plan, the thematic inspection of referral order practice was timely for the development of the group. The inspection was used as an effective tool to review our own practice. This has included practice workshops, changes to existing templates and refreshed panel member training. An audit of referral order practice is due in October 2017 to ensure that there is improved practice across the region. The most recent area for the group to oversee and within this year's plan is the use of the reoffending toolkit live tracker. In order to try to better understand the reoffending cohort the service asked YJB Wales to assist us in a 'deep-dive' exercise which looked not only at data trends within the cohort but involved detailed file reads and interviews with staff. From this we are developing the use of the live tracker focusing on specific characteristics and the development of trauma-informed practice (this is expanded upon later in the plan). The service is enthusiastic about this development and how we will be working with our partners and how this can potentially develop.

While reoffending is the big challenge relating to the YJB England and Wales KPIs, access to education training and employment (ETE) has been the challenge for a number of Welsh YOTs and WBYJEIS is the same. The management board has taken a keen interest in this area and a scoping exercise has been completed in relation to our children and young people's speech and language needs. Understanding communication needs will not only assist in accessing the right level of ETE but also inform practitioners about how to communicate during every aspect of the intervention and possibly impact on compliance and reoffending rates. The report highlighted that there is a high level (54 % - 124/231) of potential communication difficulties in children and young people known to our service. This is significantly greater than in the general population (10% Brooks, 2011) and slightly lower than research reports suggesting that over 60% of people in youth justice settings have difficulties with speech, language or communication (Bryan et al, 2007). There is an ongoing need for increased awareness in the community and across the workforce of the specific language impairments and the relationship between language development, social-emotional development and behaviour. 77% of the children and young people highlighted as having potential speech, language and communication needs have never been referred to a speech and language therapy service. This scoping exercise has informed our use of the YJB grant allocation which is used this year to fund a speech and language therapist to assist in assessment and produce individual communications plans for children and young people. The development of this area of delivery is complementary to the roll out across South Wales of adverse childhood experiences (ACE) informed practice and trauma recovery where communication techniques are central to engagement.

The variety of developments over the past year cannot all be covered but the service is seeing the benefits of the amalgamation as an increasing number of staff work right across the region. This is allowing effective vacancy management as well as the sharing of skills. There has been no 'big bang' effect of the amalgamation, progress continues to be a pragmatic approach to adapting to change. This approach has been largely due to an uncertain political environment and this continues to be the case.

Delivering effective services during a time of change is challenging. The financial pressures and uncertainty felt by youth justice services can on the one hand result in creative solutions but on the other hand it can hinder the development of innovative practice, staff development and partnership working. As all agencies are experiencing reduced resources the contribution to youth justice services reduce. This can be from a direct reduction in staff time or in the actual financial contribution. The Western Bay Service has experienced difficulties relating to health contribution, a reduction in probation staffing and an increased police abstraction time for other duties. This is indicative of the pressures on partner agencies as strong working relationships remain on the ground and at the management board.

Structure and governance

The production of a Youth Justice Plan is a statutory duty of the local authority under Part 3, section 40 of the Crime and Disorder Act 1998.

The plan sets out:

- how youth justice services are to be provided and funded;
- how the Youth Offending Service established by the local authority is to be composed and funded;
- how it will operate; and
- what function it is to carry out.

The Crime and Disorder Act 1998, section 39(1) placed a duty on each local authority, acting with its statutory partners (ie Police, Probation and Health) to establish youth offending teams in their local area to deliver youth justice services. Section 38(3) of the Act placed a duty on the local authority and its statutory partners to make payment towards the expenditure incurred in providing youth justice services.

Membership of the Youth Offending Service is prescribed by the legislation. It must include a Probation Officer, Social Worker, Police Officer, Health representative and Education representative. Health representation has been a challenge and escalated to the YJB Wales team. The Inspection of Cwm Taf Youth Offending Service published in July 2017 is of particular interest for the development of our management board as Cwm Taf amalgamated at a similar time to Western Bay. There are specific lessons to be learnt from the inspection findings relating to governance but specific reference is also made in the report to lack of health provision.

The purpose of the WBJYEIS is to ensure that youth justice services are available across the Western Bay area. A YOS is the main vehicle through which youth justice services are coordinated and delivered working to reduce anti-social behaviour ASB, offending and reoffending amongst children and young people.

The YOS Management Board, made up of senior representatives from each of the statutory partners as outlined above, oversees the operation of the service including the functions it undertakes and the funding arrangements. Regular reports are provided to all three LA Cabinets and appropriate scrutiny committees as required.

The staff group across Western Bay have been through a challenging journey but have been committed to being the best service they can be. They produced the following vision:

"Youth Offending Teams aim to prevent and reduce offending, reoffending and anti-social behaviour amongst children and young people.

We strive to achieve this aim through the delivery of the right high-quality services provided at the right time for and informed by children, young people, parents and carers, victims and the wider community and partners. These services will be provided cost effectively by a diverse, competent and well supported staff group."

A small group of children and young people have helped produce the plan this year and they came up with their version of what a successful YOS looks like from a mechanic point of view (ie if they were cars - "If they get a good service the car won't break down and they won't be back in the garage!")

The Management Board is pro-active. Accessing quality education training and employment ETE has been a focus with reports being produced on the use of reduced timetables. The service manager and partners are held to account by not only the Board but through scrutiny processes in all three local authorities. Reports are regularly presented on performance but also on, for example, Looked After Children within the Youth Justice System.

The service is represented on all three Community Safety Partnership Boards, the Western Bay Safeguarding Children Board and the Western Bay Area Planning Board. The service manager represents South Wales YOT Managers on the South Wales Criminal Justice and Integrated Offender Management Board, shares representation on the MAPPA Senior Management Board and represents YOT Managers Cymru on the Youth Justice Advisory Panel.

The service itself has a small internal management team with representation from each locality team. Since January 2017, the two operational managers have taken on themed areas of work across the region thus breaking down remaining silos of activity. Having the management team has added considerable value and strength to the management oversight processes by forming a performance and audit group that has developed an annual plan that reports directly into the management board. Any serious incident and the learning that follows is reported to the management board in addition to any other relevant forum, Safeguarding Page 6 of 28

The desired outcomes contribute directly to meeting local authority priorities held within corporate plans across the three local authorities. The priorities and outcomes mirror those of the YJB Business Plan 2016-2017 and the YJB and WG Joint Strategy Children and Young People First (July 2014).

A well-designed partnership approach giving value for money achieving the following:

- 1. reduction in first time entrants through early intervention, prevention and diversion;
- 2. reduction in youth reoffending through appropriate interventions of the right level at the right time;
- 3. reduction in the use of youth custody confident that custody is a last resort and for crimes so serious no community sentence is an appropriate response;
- 4. access to devolved services for children and young people at risk of entering or having entered the youth justice system;
- 5. effective safeguarding through recognising vulnerability and improving the safety and wellbeing needs of children and young people;
- 6. effective public protection through risk recognition, assessment and management;
- 7. the voice of the victim is heard;
- 8. successful reintegration and resettlement at the end of an intervention;
- 9. a well-supported professional workforce; and
- 10. true participation by all involved.

All staff employed across the WB service are now trained in ACE-informed practice. The Enhanced Case Management ECM model is due to be introduced in October which will bring the psychologist input to case formulation and clinical supervision for staff who are working with the most challenging and traumatised children and young people we know in the service Through Hwb Doeth (group established by the YJB to promote the development and dissemination of effective practice in youth justice in Wales) YOT's who have managed to bring down the reoffending rates may have effective practice to share. There is one in Wales that was part of the ECM pilot where lessons may be learnt especially as ECM will be piloted in South Wales from October 2017 The ECM approach will hopefully reduce the current trend of increased frequency as well as reduce the number reoffending. Successful transition of young people into adulthood continues to be a key area if young adults are to not be over represented in crime statistics. The need for exit strategies was a key message from the deep dive exercise. The service aims to not only improve transition practice for those going to Probation through Y2A arrangements but also	The reoffending cohort being reported for 2016-2017 is taken from 2014-2015 to allow the potential offending behavior to be tracked. Western Bay has 217 in that cohort, 99 reoffended during the tracked period (45.6%), committing 377 further offences. It is interesting to note that if the Bureau young people are included in the assessment of reoffending the figure is reduced to approximately 26% reoffending. This is a reduced figure against last year which was 28% using the same calculations.

through key working when they are no longer open to services. This started last year and so far has given promising results. Young people will be supported through exit strategies and kept in touch with by workers who have built up a relationship with them. This fits with trauma informed approaches and desistence theory. Who are our partners?	 Police and Courts services, magistrates, local authority, Secure Estate, YJB, members of the Resettlement and Reintegration Panels. Community Safety Partnerships, MAPPA, Safeguarding Children's Board. The YJB has a wide range of activity which requires action within the wider YJ transformation agenda framework. The custody and custody interventions workstream is of course included in this. The monitoring and oversight role with the YJS is truly end to end and follows the journey of the young person from community, through secure and back into community – therefore any practice/interventions/processes will need to be reviewed accordingly. 	HMPYOI Parc as this is a G4S provision and our Wales team have a greater role than we would have with public secure in England.
What risk does this link to, if any?	Bridgend Youth Court closed last year and cases are now being heard in Cardiff. The risk being that the service is working within two court areas and consistency for delivery can be challenging. An example being that Swansea Court are keen to be involved in the development of problem solving court for children and young people but Cardiff colleagues were not. The Charlie Taylor Review advocates for secure education establishments in the future and there will be two pilot sites in England. Education is a devolved responsibility in Wales. Placements and secure contracting will transfer out of the YJB responsibilities although there are differences for Parc as this is a G4S provision and YJB Wales have had a greater role than the YJB has with public secure provision in England. It is unknown what effect the changes within the secure estate will have.

The Social Services and Wellbeing Act (Wales) Menu of is a vehicle for ensuring that young people in services custody have their care and support needs that can be met. This is particularly relevant to WB as we offered to have Hillside Secure Unit and HMPYOI Parc in wider YOTs to our region. The recommendation to increase the use of Release on Temporary Licence be (ROTL) contained in inspections is an published opportunity to create an environment where by ROTL is the norm not the exception. A project November 2017 group was formed to drive forward the provision of ROTL at the centre and develop the ability to raise revenue through providing this for other YOTs. behaviour management within the school setting and at home. This needs to be built upon.

As planned last year children and young people subject to reduced timetables have been the focus of education training and employment ETE workers reporting to the Management Board. This work needs to continue and the board solve the problems being experienced accessing the provision, something highlighted by Cwm Taf's inspection. The board needs to use the data and make a difference.

The service will develop effective links with School Improvement Consortia (ERW and Central South Consortium) to challenge and support schools to identify learners who have offended or at risk of offending, in order better to meet their educational needs (80% of service clientele and in the secure estate have had disrupted/non-completed schooling.)

RISK MANAGEMENT

While there are three key agencies forming the "responsible authority" for MAPPA (ie Police, prisons and probation), the WB Service has a duty to cooperate. There is consistently mention of better risk management processes within inspection reports and WB have prioritised this area through case planning meetings and risk panels.

The amalgamation of services across the Western Bay footprint has given an ideal opportunity to improve risk management, sharing the expertise developed in the locality teams and ensuring that management oversight is robust. In order to ensure all practitioners and managers are current in their understanding of MAPPA, the South Wales MAPPA coordinator has delivered refresher training for staff and managers last year and four pillars training risk assessment and management is scheduled again for this year.

The introduction of Asset Plus has provided an opportunity to revisit risk management processes in light of the new assessment framework. With the enhanced case management (ECM) trauma based approach being introduced the service is conscious that this more therapeutic approach to prolific and high risk offenders cannot dilute risk management processes.

A recent domestic homicide review involved an adult who was previously known to the service, his half-brother is currently known to us. Whilst we were no longer working with the perpetrator of this tragic offence there were behaviours that could be clearly recognised in his brother. The service decided that we would undertake our own single agency review of our work with his brother and refer the findings to the child practice review group of the Safeguarding Children Board. This piece of work is ongoing at the time of writing this plan but already learning has been identified (eg disguised compliance).

The most common re-offence is that of violence and in response the senior practitioners have accessed specific training to increase confidence in the management of risk of violence. The trends in offending behaviour are responded to on a partnership basis through the community safety partnerships (CSP).

In response to the violent offending and the risks of knife crime a young person known to the service has offered to assist with awareness raising and confronting children and young people with the consequences of carrying knives. This young person was stabbed and seriously wounded in a fight. He is by his own acknowledgement no angel but he is now a victim and is passionate about stopping other people being the victim of knives.

VULNERABILITY MANAGEMENT SAFETY AND WELLBEING

The Youth Justice Board published "Commitment to Safeguard – contributing to the safety and welfare of children and young people" in 2014. The document echoes safeguarding procedures to be followed by local authorities. Within it, it states

"All organisations whose work impacts on children have a responsibility to ensure that the actions they undertake protect the safety and welfare and promote the well-being of those children, the staff who work for them and members of the public."

A number of guiding principles are highlighted. These include:

- the best interests of the child are a key consideration in decisions taken;
- safeguarding is everyone's responsibility; children's safety is of paramount importance. This is collectively understood and the expectation for everyone to contribute to keeping children safe is clear;
- safeguarding is actively supported using monitoring and good practice functions to promote learning, support the prevention of harm and promote well-being;
- we will listen to children's views about what they need to be kept safe;
- information sharing supports timely and appropriate decision making that is based on individual needs, prevents harm and supports wellbeing; and
- equality of opportunity: no child or group of children is treated any less favourably than others. Access to services or the fulfilment of particular needs should not be impaired by gender, ethnicity, ability, sexuality or age.

As with risk management, safeguarding relies on robust and accurate assessment and listening to what the child or young person is saying. YOT's have always completed holistic assessment and involved parents/carers within this. Asset Plus has improved on this within the assessment processes. Internal mechanisms regarding safety and wellbeing are informed by "Working Together" and the Well-being of Future Generations (Wales) Act and do not take the place of/undermine the All Wales Child Protection Procedures.

The Chair of the WBYJEIS Management Board Service is the Chair of the Western Bay Safeguarding Children Board (WBSCB) giving a robust strategic link to the safeguarding needs of children and young people known to the Service. There are lessons to be learnt from child practice reviews and serious incidents within the community where the service has been supervising the child or young person who has become a victim or harmed themselves. A member of the management team is on the child practise review sub group of the safeguarding children board as well as the quality and performance sub group. The relationship between the service and safeguarding teams is good across the region and the "step up, step down" approach to meeting the needs of children and young people has improved over the last year as services are increasingly joining up to provide seamless services avoiding duplication.

The current lack of CAMHS nursing time is a risk for the service and its role in safeguarding that has been raised and taken forward by the Management Board. There is a commissioning work stream to address the deficits in provision. Children and young people have been consulted as part of this work stream to ensure that the new service specification takes a more holistic view of their health needs.

VICTIM ENGAGEMANT AND RESTORATIVE INTERVENTIONS

Restorative approaches are embedded in the practice of the service with a small group of trainers who are in the process of training the wider workforce across the three collaborating local authorities. The development of restorative questions being used in compliance meetings, meaningful reparation, quality services for victims, conflict resolution and family group conferencing are examples of restorative approaches in practice. The priority for the service is for this area of work to keep growing adding additional schools adopting the Restorative Approaches in schools project with teachers and pupils trained together, more community homes and carers being able to de-escalate situations, equipped to be better corporate parents (Laming Report on Looked After Children in the Criminal Justice System). A partnership pilot project ran within Hillside Secure Children's Home aiming to bring down the number of Hillside residents being arrested. It is based on restorative interventions being delivered through the service for low level incidents. The first response from service's seconded Police Officer. This work has resulted in a WB-agreed protocol for the decriminalisation of children in the Looked After System. Swansea University has been engaged to evaluate the effectiveness of the protocol.

Positive victim involvement is always a priority for the service and with the opportunity to redesign the service on a regional footprint came the opportunity to review the role of the victim workers improving links with reparation and a more visible outcomes for victims. An overarching Western Bay coordinator for reparation is now in post bringing consistency to this area of work.

A restorative approaches training course has been developed through the service with Agored Cymru accreditation which is delivered as part of the social care workforce development plan. This brings consistency of delivery across agencies so important when working with early intervention services and residential settings.

The service has expressed an interest in enhancing problem-solving practice in youth courts with Centre for Justice Innovation. We have had a post expression of interest meeting which was positive. The next step is collation of the EOIs received and initial discussions. This will be submitted as the long-list of potential sites to HMCTS, YJB, MoJ and the Judicial Office, three sites will be chosen to take part but at this stage we do not know if we will be successful

WORKFORCE DEVELOPMENT

Workforce development directly links with each LA appraisal process. This links the appraisal to the service delivery model and gives staff ownership of their contribution. Over the last twelve months, the staff group have embedded Asset Plus which has required training and adapting to a change in focus from risk to a more child focused approach with greater staff discretion. We have moved to one information system across the three localities realising efficiencies and improving the capacity of quality assurance processes. Trauma recovery training has been received by the whole service in readiness for this year's priority of adopting ACE-informed practice across the region and Enhanced Case Management which involved case formulation meetings and clinical supervision through psychologist input. In addition the screening tool for pre-court is being evaluated through Swansea University to inform practice.

The service has through the amalgamation formed a quality and performance sub group which has taken ownership of the staff development plan along with audits and action plans resulting from inspections including thematics. This is a mix of case-holding staff and management. Through audit, areas of practice needing improvement can be identified and workshops arranged.

As already highlighted we need to address reoffending and the YJB has provided assistance in a deep dive audit similar to that undertaken in London. As a result we have formulated an action plan that involves the use of the live tracker. This will involve staff commitment to keep up to date and the organisation of monthly meetings for monitoring. The approach lends itself to the introduction and ACEs and ECM as it will, for example, identify the second episode/offence and trigger the use of ACE assessment. This is particular relevant to pre-court staff development and ECM, to begin with, will involve the development of the statutory caseload holders. Partners will be crucial to the success of this approach.

Management oversight, challenge and support continues to be a priority especially during times of great change. In January 2017, the service moved to a themed management structure replacing the locality based approach.

PARTICIPATION

Engaging young people in decision making and accepting responsibilities for their actions and future is critical to developing skills as constructive members of their community; Article 12 of the UNCRC establishes the right of young people to participate where decisions are being made that affect their future.

Adopting a methodology that confronts negative behaviour, educates the young person about the consequences of their behaviour, enables them to put right the wrong, respects and supports parental responsibility and has the capacity to reduce the risks of future offending will have a strong capacity to rehabilitate. The utilisation of restorative practices across the service maximises the future potential of young people to become successful and integrated members of our community.

The Management Board have been set the challenge of agreeing how best to involve children and young people in board business. Currently presentations have been made on specific service areas (eg Building Skills and the Andrew Kent Music Academy by young people and staff but they have not been a board member). Consultation regarding the content of the plan has been limited, however, each of the three locality offices of Bridgend, Neath Port Talbot and Swansea have asked children, young people, parents and carers and victims one very important question

"What is the service not doing well?"

As you would expect the majority of the replies were that they could not think of anything. However in conversation building on that very simple beginning it was clear that actually the service may think they share information with our service users well but actually we do not. One 11 year-old boy did not know what his plan was. When he was presented with the plan – he did not understand what it was. This highlighted that some practise had been lost. Action from this is the service re-visiting the wording of plans and refreshing a work book/planner that was designed some time ago by young people on intensive supervision and surveillance. This planner helped them understand the expectations and see the progress they had made and set the next target. Care needs to be taken that there is not duplication with the questionnaires children and young people are being encouraged to complete using Viewpoint feedback questionnaires.

Victims were not unhappy with our service but felt disappointed in the wider justice system. An action from this was difficult but we can ensure that we take time to explain processes/reasons in the best way we can.

Parents have given positive feedback about the non-violence resistance training and as a result additional staff are to be trained to deliver the approach wider.

Focus groups have been held with the service manager, staff and service users to inform the plan. From the young people's feedback, delivery including The Duke of Edinburgh Award and Police Youth Volunteers were highly valued and this message passed across the region to remind the staff group of the positive outcomes raised by the young people.

This plan covers a twelve-month period only and is written to meet the needs of many audiences in addition to the official bodies requiring its completion and submission. Service users, partner agencies and other partnerships, cabinet members, strategic planners and many more. It also has a central function – the plan is the vehicle used to report progress to the board and guide the staff in the delivery of services – it provides service ownership. Using it as a living document will be a focus of the service over the next twelve months and we thank the young people who attended the Junior Attendance Centre for the cover.
